University of Colorado Boulder Guidelines for Medication Self-Administer and Self-Carry

CU Boulder policy does not allow staff to engage in the administration of participants' medication. This includes over-the-counter medications. In the case of an emergency, staff will engage in first aid and CPR, and contact emergency medical services (EMS). Staff will then address the situation in accordance with the directives of EMS.

With the exception of EPI-Pens, participants who need to take medication while attending the program must either self-administer the medication or work with the CU Boulder Center for Disability and Access (ADACoordinator@colorado.edu, 303-492-9725) to obtain accommodations.

Participants must only carry sufficient medication for a single day or the duration of the program. It is also recommended that they carry written authorization from their medical provider to self-administer. Daily doses minimally should be labeled with:

- Participant Name
- Name of the Drug
- Dosage
- Time for Administering
- Name of the Medical Provider
- Current Date
